Chiang Mai Kew Mae Pan / Full Day Tour

Highlights: Doi Inthanon National Park / Royal Pagodas / Wachiratharn Waterfall / Kew Mae Pan Nature Trail (Lunch)

08:00 AM Pick up from the hotel.

Depart from the bustling city of Chiang Mai and venture into the serene and natural splendor of Doi Inthanon National Park, often referred to as the "Roof of Thailand." Your journey begins with a visit to the awe-inspiring Wachirathan Waterfall, a grand, single-tiered cascade renowned for its exceptional beauty. As one of Thailand's most enchanting waterfalls, it flows gracefully throughout the year, with water cascading 70 meters into the basin below. During the rainy season, the interplay of water droplets and sunlight creates frequent rainbows, adding to the waterfall's allure and making it a truly mesmerizing sight. The surrounding lush greenery and the thunderous roar of the waterfall create a symphony of natural sounds that enhances the magical atmosphere. Visitors can take a refreshing break by the falls, enjoying the cool mist and the tranquil ambiance.

Next, immerse yourself in the architectural marvels of the Twin Royal Pagodas, Napamethanidol and Napapolpumisiri, perched atop a high hill within Doi Inthanon National Park. Phra Mahathat Napamethanidol was built to honor and pay homage to Phra Bat Somdet Phra Paraminthra Maha Bhumibol Adulyadej Rama IX during the auspicious celebration of His Majesty the King's 5th cycle birthday in 1987. Similarly, Phra Mahathat Naphaphonphumisiri was constructed as an offering to Her Majesty Queen Sirikit during the celebrations of Her Majesty the Queen's 5th cycle birthday in 1992. The pagodas are surrounded by exquisitely decorated winter flower gardens and a diverse array of plants. With cool weather prevailing throughout the year, this spot offers spectacular panoramic views, making it one of the most stunning viewpoints in Chiang Mai.

Lunch at the restaurant.

Next, continue your exploration to Doi Inthanon, the highest peak in Thailand, standing tall at an elevation of 2,565 meters above sea level. As part of the Thanon Thongchai Mountain range, which stretches from the Himalayas through countries like Nepal, Bhutan, and Myanmar, this region boasts abundant biodiversity and varied climates. As you ascend the mountain, you'll traverse through different ecological zones, from dense rainforests to majestic pine forests and mixed forests, each offering a unique and captivating natural experience. Along the way, you'll encounter a variety of flora and fauna, including rare orchids, colorful birds, and, if you're lucky, even some elusive wildlife. Once you reach the summit of Doi Inthanon, you'll be rewarded with breathtaking panoramic vistas that stretch as far as the eye can see. The cool, crisp air at the peak provides a refreshing respite from the lower elevations, making it an ideal spot for relaxation and contemplation. The view from the top is truly awe-inspiring, with rolling hills, deep valleys, and distant mountain ranges creating a dramatic and picturesque landscape that attracts visitors from around the world.

Embark on the Kew Mae Pan Nature Trail, a short yet spectacular circular walking trail at an altitude of approximately 2,000 meters above sea level. This trail is considered another gem among Doi Inthanon National Park's beautiful viewpoints. As you walk, you'll traverse lush green forests adorned with ferns, moss, and a variety of plants. The trail meanders through these rich ecosystems, eventually leading to a ridge with a viewpoint that offers stunning vistas of vast grasslands and beyond. Here, the bright blue sky meets the golden fields, and the cold wind gently sways the grass, creating a breathtaking scene. The sight of the intricate mountain ranges stretching to the horizon is a sight to behold, providing ample opportunities for photography and quiet reflection. Allow approximately 2-3 hours to complete the Kew Mae Pan Nature Trail, savoring every moment of its natural beauty and the serene atmosphere it provides. As you descend from the heights of Doi Inthanon, you'll carry with you the memories of these stunning natural landscapes and the sense of tranquility that comes from being immersed in one of Thailand's most beautiful national parks. This journey offers not only a feast for the eyes but also a soothing balm for the soul, making it an unforgettable experience for nature lovers and adventure seekers alike.

As the day comes to an end, return to Chiang Mai, where you'll be transferred back to your hotel, cherishing the memories of this extraordinary journey through Doi Inthanon's pristine landscapes.
